Bio

Dave Salter confesses to being a male chauvinist-in-rehabilitation. For the first third of his life, he was raised in a traditional Italian-Catholic family. When the extended family sat down for Holiday dinner, grandfathers, uncles, fathers, nephews, and grandsons were seated and served by the women in the house before any female took a seat or ate a bite. He thought this was how it was supposed to be when he got married and had children.

How wrong was he? He's still a work in progress, but his wife and his three daughters have reprogrammed the way that he thinks about his universe. It's a good thing, too.

His three daughters have motivated his writing for the past 13 years. His latest release, Final Four Leadership (5 Secrets Successful Female Leaders Use and You Should Too), is his third dedicated to girls' and women's issues.

His book, Crashing the Old Boy's Network was the first ever written about Title IX and gender equity, and it featured interviews with notables like Robin Roberts, Billie Jean King and Pat Summitt.

He was recruited to write a bi-weekly newspaper column about girls and women in sports, which he did for seven years, earning recognition from the Women's Sports Foundation for his work.

Dave's work has appeared in such publications as: USA Weekend, The Philadelphia Inquirer, the NCAA News, the Colorado Amateur Sports Directory, The Morning Call, Education Update and Tweens News. He's been featured on ESPN's "Outside the Lines," and has been a guest on dozens of radio shows across the country and Canada.

"Leadership"

Do Your Students Know 5 Secrets That Will Transform Them into Dynamic Leaders?

The Program – Dave's presentation is based upon his new book, Final Four Leadership.

- 1. Who's on the Team? – The people you select to work with you on your 'team' will determine the success or failure of your leadership efforts.
- 2. Chemistry Lesson – Talent can be misleading when it comes to being a successful leader.
- 3. Personal Touch – Great leaders know how to motivate and inspire the people on their 'team.'
- 4. Upstairs, Downstairs – Successful leaders can't be effective without help from people you might not see everyday.
- 5. Authenticity – This is the most critical aspect of any successful leader.

**Additional topics Specifically for Female audiences:

- What can successful female leaders do to lift up the next generation of female leaders?
- What obstacles do young women put in front of themselves that block their path to success?

"Dave, being interviewed on the Tar Heel Sports Network at UNC, has been a guest on dozens of radio stations throughout the country and Canada"

"Alcohol Awareness"

Don't Waste Your Gift

The Program – Dave's presentation is based upon nearly 20 years as a college administrator.

- 1. Crisis Management Regrets
- 2. Media Literacy – what we see and hear influences what we do
- 3. Current Research – not the results we're looking for

" Dave provides adults and young people with important perspectives that he has gained as a father, coach, and former college administrator. He applies these experiences to choices related to alcohol, drugs and other challenges facing our next generation. Dave will provide the catalyst for important discussions among your audiences and actions that protect their health and well being. "

Steve Schmidt, Vice President of Public Policy and Communications
National Alcohol Beverage Control Association
